

Guidelines for the Ethical Employee:

- An Ethical employee is diligent and committed to his or her work
- An Ethical employee takes responsibility for the task given him or her
- An Ethical employee asks about the entity and understands the context
- An Ethical employee says no to work that can harm him or her, others or the environment
- An Ethical employee leads negative energy back to where it came from
- An Ethical employee always makes his or her influence count, even in small matters
- An Ethical employee knows that he or she is part of an entity – one Earth, one people – and acts accordingly in all that he or she does

*Excerpt from the book "Be generous and prosper"

House of Vidyā